

SAFETY CULTURE POLICY

Turbine Technology AAEM Limited Liability Company

The strategic objective of the Company is to achieve quality, reliability and efficiency of the equipment supplied to nuclear plants on par with the best world comparables, become a leader in the domestic and foreign nuclear power engineering markets with guaranteed safety of people and environment at all product life stages.

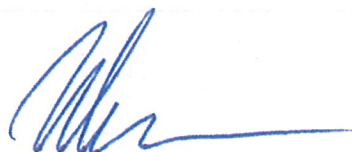

The strategic objective is achieved through establishing and keeping effective the Company's integrated management system, including the quality management system, environmental management system and occupational health and safety management system.

Safety of nuclear plants receiving the equipment is a top and absolute priority of the production activities in the Company.

Safety culture pursued by the Company aims to create an environment, in which each and every employee is aware of the importance of safety and, thus, intrinsically feels the need to strictly comply with the requirements of the nuclear safety rules, codes and instructions.

While recognizing the importance of issues addressed by creating, developing and improving the safety culture, the higher management of the Company declares commitment to safety priority and creating the necessary conditions to implement the safety culture management system in the Company to meet the requirements of the Russian nuclear legislation, requirements of international standards and IAEA guidelines, requirements of the national legislation of the importing countries.

General Director

I.A. Vergizaev

AAEM